C. S. H. C. R. No. 3.

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas, The cotton farmers of the South, in general, and those of Texas in particular, having faith in the wisdom and sympathetic impulses of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, joined heartily and courageously with the cotton acreage retirement program as promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture, having in mind that such a plan would stabilize the price of cotton. In the carrying out of this program the cotton farmers have suffered disappointment because of the failure of the Federal Government to make prompt payments of agreed rentals, and by reason of this delay the purchasing power of the agreed rentals has been greatly reduced, all to the farmer's loss and through no fault of his; and

Whereas, All farm and ranch products are now at low price levels; and

Whereas, There is reason to believe that the cotton speculators and middlemen are laying a heavy hand in the instability and fluctuations of the cotton market, and the results are rapidly destroying the morale of our cotton farmers in that it lowers their buying power, creates uncertainty, unrest and real distress; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That the Forty-third Legislature, convened in this extraordinary session, recommend to the Honorable Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and other governmental authorities, to consider the matter of removing trade barriers and entering into trade agreements with foreign nations as a means of increasing our foreign market for cotton and to further use their best efforts to bring about an immediate and substantial enhancement of the prices for cotton to the point that the producer may hope to secure at least the cost of production and a reasonable profit therein; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture, and to the Department of Justice.
